Safeguard common man

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
Chandigarh, 9 November

In view of the Central government's decision to cease the existing series of currency notes of Rs 500 and Rs 1,000 denominations, Haryana government today directed that the existing currency notes of Rs 500 and Rs 1,000 would be accepted at its authorised outlets from November 9 to 11 for purchase of petrol, diesel, milk, tickets of buses, and seeds.

An emergent meeting of senior officers was convened on Wednesday wherein the officials were directed to ensure all necessary arrangements for convenience of general public. It was said that currency notes of Rs 500 and Rs 1,000 denominations would be accepted at all petrol pumps operating under the authorisation of public oil marketing companies for purchase of petrol and diesel from November 9 to 11.

Besides, oil companies have also been asked to ensure adequate supply of petrol and diesel at their stations. The VTIA milk booths functioning in the state would also accept existing currency notes of Rs 1,000 and Rs 500 denominations at all of its 399 outlets in the state during this period.

SC sets up panel to inspect Rathore claim on flat

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi, 9 November

The Supreme Court today formed a two-member lawyers' panel to look into the claim of Minister of State Rajyavardhan Singh Rathore of an "uninhabitable" flat and the facilities in Parsvnath Developers' Exotica project in Gurgaon.

The apex court directed the committee to submit its report in two weeks and look into the allegations made by the MoS for information and broadcasting. A bench of Justices Dipak Misra and Amitava Roy formed the lawyers' committee after Rathore's counsel complained that the flat given to the minister by the builder was "uninhabitable".

Earlier, the apex court had directed the real estate firm to hand over the flat to Rathore.

The counsel for Rathore said the flat which was allotted to him did not have access to common facilities of the project as was shown in the site map at the time of booking. The tower in which the flat is located, the counsel submitted, had a 'kachcha' access road which opened into a slum cluster. There was no parking facility and the tower did not have an occupancy certificate, he said.

The counsel for the builder said if Rathore had so many problems, he could take a refund, adding that the flat was in a good condition and work at the project site was going on.

Rathore's counsel said they did not want refund as they have contested for so long to get the flat and urged the court that another flat be given to him in the tower which has occupancy certificate. The court, however, said it cannot be done as Rathore had booked a flat of his own choice.

"The members of the committee will go and inspect what is the shortest and longest route to common facilities which everyone is getting. It will also look into the allegations of parking facilities, kachcha road, etc," the bench said.

The bench asked Rathore to first occupy the flat and get a roof for himself, after which it will look into the aspect of compensation.

The court appointed advocates Gaurav Aggarwal and Shankar Narayan as members of the committee, directing them to submit the report in two weeks. The next hearing in the case is fixed for 29 November.

TIME'S MOVE

New Delhi, 9 November: The Bharatiya Mazdoor Sangh (BMS), the country's largest trade union, has welcomed the government's decision to demonetise high value currency notes, and expressed hope that implementation of the decision would not adversely affect the life of common man.

In a statement, the BMS general secretary, Mr Brijesh Upadhyay, today said the decision was a strong step against black money, and would curb hoarding activity and circulation of counterfeit currency. The decision would also reduce economic inequalities, he said.
